Quotes

Norm Loberg, Chair, Transitional Committee: “The Transitional Committee carefully weighed these selections with the objective of forging from the existing utilities a new and stronger company. Our strength lies in the fact we have been a unified team since we first announced our intention to bring these companies together, in April, 2015. I am confident that with such exemplary, seasoned executive leadership our company, our customers – and indeed our future, are in good hands.”

Brian Bentz, President and CEO (designate) of MergeCo Holding Company.: “Our greatest strength is our partnership and shared philosophy toward building a united company. Collectively, we have the talent and vision to realize our goal of becoming a model in consolidation in everything we do as a new company. Our customers, communities and shareholders will be the ultimate beneficiaries of this exciting initiative.”

Max Cananzi President (designate), Local Distribution Company: “I’m confident that our collective track record as industry leading companies in delivering exceptional customer service, high service reliability, and enhanced services will allow us to come together to create a world-class utility that our customers will value.”

Peter Gregg, President (designate), Innovation, Growth and Corporate Services: “Our combined cultures and resources provide the expertise, the capacity, but most importantly the vision to create an innovative energy solutions leader.”

Paul Tremblay, President and CEO of Hydro One Brampton: “I have no doubt; these four leading utilities will be successful in creating tomorrow’s industry leader in energy solutions. It has been very exciting for me to be contributing to the formation of this new company.”
